

FROM THE PASTOR

In this Sunday's Gospel, Martha and Mary give the Lord Jesus their distinctive gifts. Martha's active preparations and Mary's contemplative attention form together what is required to welcome Christ in welcoming a guest. The hospitality of both women also invites reflection about the necessity of deepening our contemplative prayer through all of the often frenetic "leisure" activities of summer.

We are now less than a month away from PeaceFest 2010, which already looks to be bigger and better than last year. T-shirts are on sale this weekend, and we hope to have flyers and postcards next week for you to distribute to family and friends, co-workers and neighbors as invitations to join us.

Please consult the PeaceFest information in this bulletin for information about donating to our rummage sale. Simplifying our possessions and passing on those items we no longer use form an excellent and easy way to benefit others and our whole Parish. I recently combed through all of my belongings in the Rectory and am making my own contribution to the big sale!

You may have guessed by now that I have a few books around the house. I deliberately do not, however, acquire new book shelves. As a result, once or twice a year, I must cull the stacks so as to keep only those books that are most helpful for my mission. This practice keeps things uncluttered and regularly provides some good books for the Parish Library. The books listed below constitute yet another batch of great new titles for your perusal in the "New Releases" section of our Parish Library in the vestibule.

Finally, this past Friday---the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel---marked the fourth anniversary of my coming to Queen of Peace as Pastor. My debt of gratitude for your goodness has only grown in these years, which have been so full and fruitful. Let's pray for even more blessings on our work together for Queen of Peace in the years ahead.

From Blessed Mary, Christ the Lord is our Peace!
Fr. Daniel Scheidt

MORE BEAUTIFUL BY THE DAY--THANKS TO YOU!

The Year for Priests Committee wishes to thank everyone who donated plants or funds for the rectory backyard. We requested specific plants according to the master plan we've created for the flower garden, and your generous donations have been fantastic! The area has come a long way and will still see improvements with mulch and an edged border. The brand new sprinkler system installed by Anthony Irrigation will keep the area growing well all summer, and by this time next year the plants will flourish even more--looking and feeling right at home!

-- The Year for Priests Committee
