

FROM THE PASTOR

Thanks to all of the parishioners who provided hospitality last weekend to the Young Catholic Singers from the Archdiocese of St. Louis. Both Aaron Renninger and Carol Cone did a great deal of behind-the-scenes coordination of their time with us, and their efforts made our celebration of the Solemnity of Corpus Christi that much more beautiful.

I am also so grateful for all of those who were able to participate last Sunday in our procession with the Blessed Sacrament around the church, rectory, garden, and school. The children who strewed rose petals on the ground preceding the Eucharistic Lord literally created a great circular “rosary” of prayer around our whole property, as a public witness of devotion to Christ, to Whom our Parish belongs.

I was able to spend a few days this week on the annual retreat for the Priests of our Diocese at Pokagon State Park. Every Priest is required by Canon Law to make a yearly retreat, and Bishop Rhoades generously provided this opportunity for my brothers in ministry and I to get together and be renewed in Christ.

Even though the physical act of reading can be challenging, I believe that some daily good reading (even of only two or three pages) is a practical necessity for growth in the spiritual life. In that spirit, I offer you my annual list of “Top Ten Recommended Books for Summer Reading”---an eclectic mix of titles to deepen our commitment to what is truly important:

1. The Future Church: How Ten Trends Are Revolutionizing the Catholic Church, by John L. Allen, Jr. (Allen is one of the best Catholic journalists writing today, and in this book provides a fascinating reflection on how our life as Catholics relates to various important global trends.)

2. Food Rules: An Eater's Manual, by Michael Pollan (This short paperback compilation of 64 nuggets of wisdom about eating may be the best book on food you'll ever read.)

3. Latin Sayings for Spiritual Growth, by Archabbot Lambert Reilly, O.S.B. (These page-long meditations on a translated Latin saying are great pre-bedtime or pre-breakfast helps to growing in one's humanity and one's love for Christ.)

4. Purity 365: Daily Reflections on True Love, by Jason Evert (This is a wonderfully thoughtful book of short meditations especially for teens and young adults on growing in real love. Evert's website is also worth checking out:

www.chastity.com)

5. The Jesuit Guide to (Almost) Everything: A Spirituality for Real Life, by James Martin, S.J. (Martin writes a very down-to-earth, easy-to-read introduction to the practical wisdom of St. Ignatius of Loyola for dealing with the challenges of today.)

6. Into the Silent Land: A Guide to the Christian Practice of Contemplation, by Martin Laird (If you've been hunting for a good introduction to contemplative prayer, this is your book.)

7. Memorize the Faith! (And Almost Anything Else): Using the Methods of the Great Catholic Medieval Memory Masters, by Kevin Vost, Psy.D. (As featured on EWTN, Dr. Vost provides some really fun tips both to improve one's memory in general and to remember for life the truths of our Faith.)

8. God's Battalions: The Case for the Crusades, by Rodney Stark (This book serves as an antidote to some of the myths about the Crusades popularized by the History Channel and other media, allowing the reader to understand this historical movement as the crusaders themselves understood it.)

9. Hitler's Ethic: The Nazi Pursuit of Evolutionary Progress, by Richard Weikart (For those interested in World War II and/or the intersection of morality and politics, Weikart uncovers the evil coherence of Hitler's vision of a biological utopia.)

10. The Myth of Religious Violence: Secular Ideology and the Roots of Modern Conflict, by William T. Cavanaugh (Cavanaugh writes a very challenging book examining how “religion” came to be associated with violence, as a fictional and dangerously misleading justification for the creation of the secular nation-state as absolute guarantor of peace.)

Before what summer leisure we have disappears, let's get reading . . .

From Blessed Mary, Christ the Lord is our Peace!

A SPECIAL DAY OF PRAYER To close the YEAR FOR PRIESTS

The Year for Priests will come to a close on Saturday, June 19, 2010. We invite you to commemorate the end of this beautiful year by taking part in a special Day of Prayer to be held on Saturday, June 19.

Please consider signing up for one or more time slots between 10:00 AM—4:00 PM for the Day of Adoration. A sign-up sheet is located on the bulletin board in the gathering area.

Day of Prayer—Schedule

9:00 AM	Holy Mass
10:00 AM—4:00 PM	Eucharistic Exposition & Adoration
3:30-5:00 PM	Sacrament of Reconciliation
5:00 PM	Benediction

Plenary Indulgence Available

On this last day of the Year for Priests, a plenary indulgence is available to those who attend Mass, receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation, pray for the Pope's intentions, and pray for all priests.

An indulgence is an action of prayer and charity which draws upon the treasury of graces Christ wishes to give the members of His Church, both on earth and in Heaven. Indulgences help detach a person from tendencies to sin, heal wounds inflicted by sin, and strengthen growth in holiness — the divine life of faith, hope and charity.
