

Josh Comeau, husband to Rosary and father of 6 children, has been a member of Queen of Peace for many years. He was diagnosed with Stage 4 brain cancer in 2014 which recently re-emerged. After undergoing surgery in May of this year to remove a brain tumor, he is working hard to fight his cancer with a holistic approach as chemotherapy and radiation are not viable options. During all of this time, Josh's faith has remained strong and steadfast.

Please consider supporting Josh and his family through:

Prayer: Please keep the needs of Josh and his family in your personal daily prayer. Consider praying a rosary for his intentions.

Financial Support: Donations can be made to the Queen of Peace Conference of St. Vincent dePaul to help with medical expenses and other related expenses associated with Josh's health concerns. Checks must be made payable to St. Vincent dePaul and mailed or dropped off to the Queen of Peace Parish Office, 4508 Vistula Road, Mishawaka, IN 46544. All donations will be restricted for the specific purpose of providing assistance to Josh and his family.

Childcare: If you are able to be called upon to help provide childcare for their children when needed during this time, please click here. Rosary's easiest method to contact you would be via email or text.

Thank you for your support. Please check back periodically as the website will be updated with any new requests or need for assistance.
